PLUNGE INTO FIERY CHASM ON BICYCLE

Thousands Thrilled by Death Trap Leap of Chelato at Paragon Park.

These are perfect days at Paragon Park. The weather allows the fullest enjoyment of the multitude of indoor and outdoor delights of the Electric City by the Sea. The average daily attendance has been way ahead of that of last season, and the Sunday AMERICAN company are sending through in Paragon Park on the two Sunday days of each week.

The horseracing group of wheelmen continues to be the leading trade attraction. The lions and tigers that hate each other, but are yet compelled to perform together, form a constant hair-raising sight, because they are likely to mix it up and tear one another to pieces at any performance.

Great Fun on Wheel.

In the open as usual the Human Roulette Wheel is beating humanity in the four weeks with the same old reckless abandon. This is a constant screen afternoon and evening and the park visitors never tire of watching it, yet trying it. Men, women and children watch the wheel and its laughing victims by the hour.

The Fall Platform, the new attraction, is a device has been added for amusement. The Fall Platform is a great pavilion, while the first-class meal continues to delight the eye and the palate. Manager Dodge looks after the Fall Platform and its service in person.

Dives 150 Feet.

Speaking of dives, the outdoor circus this week and next will be worth going to Paragon Park to see.

Monday, the 15-foot Dive King, gets to be more of a feature with every passing week. People go to see him, and he gets to be more of a feature with every passing week. The Dive King, the great diving act of the circus, is the most popular of the circus, and the most popular of the circus.

A new feature in the free open air circus is that of Chelato, who does a terrible act of "leaping the death trap" and "leaping the fiery chasm." In the latter performance Chelato places a chair on a high pole, and then jumps down from it, landing safely on a platform at the water's edge.

Chicago Convention Greatly Interested in Boston Man's Address.

"The playground boy and the playground girl of Boston will become the men and women who will do honor to their city and their nation," declared Joseph Lee, sociologist and publisher of Boston, before the Playground Association, at its first annual convention at Chicago, Monday.

"Boston is ground of her playgrounds and her playground children. She realizes that the playground is the future of the nation, and she is doing her best to make it so."

Lee's children are seen at their best when they are running on the cool green in Boston Park and were yesterday, and it was fitting that at that very time the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen agreed upon the $250,000 appropriation for the improvement of Park Hill Park.

Four Great Facts were brought out at the Chicago convention. They were: 1. The best antidote to crime is poverty. 2. The best antidote to crime is poverty. 3. The best antidote to crime is poverty. 4. The best antidote to crime is poverty.

And there are other bright children in Greater Boston, as the following sayings prove.

A CAGED BABY

ONE day my three year old son went to a neighbor's home to see their baby.

"When he came home I asked him why he didn't bring the little one with him, when he answered, 'I couldn't cause his mamma keeps him in a cage.'"

THE PLACE FOR AUNTIE

WHEN my auntsie Auntie was three years old she was three and a half years old, he called himself "auntie's little man." One day when his uncle and aunt were visiting at the house, he was asked whose little man he was.

That day and he answered "Auntie's little man."

"Where do I come to?" I asked.

Quick as a flash came this reply.

COULDN'T SEE THROUGH GLASSES

THE other morning my four year old Arthur went across the street to see a neighbor who is very fond of him.

"Arthur, did Mrs. P. see the dirt on your hair and neck? I said to him."

He said: "No, mamma, she had her glasses on and couldn't see the dirt through them and she kissed me just the same."

ALDERMEN PASS LOAN BILL FOR $1,599,500

Mayor's Request for $500,000 for Streets Cut Down $100,000 After Big Fight.

The first general loan bill to be passed through the Board of Aldermen in the present administration was voted yesterday and calls for $1,599,500, or $100,000 less than was reported by the Finance Committee for street improvements. It was over this item that the Aldermen fought most strenuously. Two Republican Aldermen, Hays and Clark, voted against the bill. Hays, Bell, Perkins and Deane voted for it, but Hays and Perkins were not for it.

Mayor Fitzgerald, from his sick bed in Rochester, sent word that the mayor wanted the $500,000 street improvement bill to be passed. The Finance Committee, however, reported $400,000. Aldermen Hays and Clark, voted against the bill, but Hays and Perkins were not for it.

Purity is Supreme

The materials we use are the best we can buy. And a partner in our business selects them.

The goodness of Schlitz is due largely to them.

But the supremacy of Schlitz as a home beer has been gained by the fact of its absolute purity.

Purity is not so conspicuous as some qualities in beer, yet it is very expensive. That is why it is rare.

But what does it matter how good a beer is if it is not a pure beer? If its use is unhealthful? If its result is biliousness?

Schlitz beer is known as the pure beer the world over.

Don't Be Peevish; Discontent Spoils Any Girl's Beauty

By Beatrice Fairfax

PEEVISH, what is the matter, that so many of you are looking peevish and discontented? It seems to me that I have never before met so many peevish faces as this summer.

It seems some of you are a pretty fair natured to times of discontent. I must think that you are peevish because you are discontented.

Mars Your Looks. I PASSED such a pretty girl in the street the other day. She was pretty dressed and looked rosy and healthy. But the beauty was spoiled by the sores, most discontented expression I ever saw.

How would you like to sit opposite that kind of a face every morning at breakfast? Do you suppose an employer would have that kind of a face about his office? If a young man is looking for a wife, he is going to pick out a girl who looks like that. I should have been for the sake of his future happiness.

If this peevish expression runs on for a generation or two, the typical Boston face will be no more and peevish looking as to be most repulsive.

It is a burning shame for the pretty girl to spoil her looks by peevishness, and it is downright foolish for the plain girl to indulge in sulks and cross-grainedness.

See Sunny Side. YOU know you are not in the world for such a very long time, so don't you think you would be much better to try to see the sunny side of life? There are lots of things to be thankful for, and if you are not thankful for them, you are not thankful for what you have.

Remember that the world will not be so kind to you as you are. You must always pay your share. Remember that the world will not be so kind to you as you are. You must always pay your share.

WOMAN CHAMPION TELLS HOW TO FIGHT FOR LIFE

Tells the Beginners
How to Acquire
The Art

By Annette Kellerman
(Champion Woman Swimmer of the World)

LESSON NUMBER VII.

Copyright, 1907, by American Journal Company.

The reader has acquired at least the first lesson of this series at home in the bath tub. He has learned the art of swimming, and he has learned the art of diving. He has learned the art of floating, and he has learned the art of kicking. He has learned the art of breathing, and he has learned the art of holding his breath.

Now we will learn the art of floating. This is the art of floating on the water. It is the art of floating on the water. It is the art of floating on the water. It is the art of floating on the water.

IT is always best to go slow and play safe while around the water, for it is really not necessary to ever have any accidents happen, provided just ordinary care is used.

Then just a little spring. Then at the very end of your dive, give a little push with your feet. This will stretch the knees and feet together, and you will feel a little spring. This will stretch the knees and feet together, and you will feel a little spring.

CASPER SQUARE HAS CHIMES OF NORMANDY

Gaspard and Serpolette Reappear to Please Lovers of Quaint Music.

The dear old "Chimes of Normandy" called to the Castle Square Theatre last evening a full house of music lovers, who listened to the quaint music and studied the audacity of the plot with just as much interest as did the audience who witnessed its initial production years ago. It's a plot that can't grow old. Gaspard and Serpolette are characters to be found in every land in every clime.

It is there that the mischievous old Gaspard, to perfection. He made the role into an acting one, deprecating one of the opportunities of which previous portrayals of the character have availed themselves for mere display, and even in his last night's audience admitted that it was better as Clara Lane was the good-for-

WILL DIVIDE VANDERBILT FORTUNE

When Miss Gladys Becomes of Age Millions Will Be Passed Out.

REJOICING AS TIME NEARS

NEW YORK, July 2.—It was made known yesterday that the extensive fortune now being arranged at the Breakers, the Newport home of Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, next month, will be in accordance with the distribution of use of America's great fortunes.

On the day of the late Mrs. Minerva Moore Vanderbilt's death, her legal age, and under her father's will, came into absolute possession of the millions left in trust for her.

Miss Vanderbilt is the youngest of the five direct heirs to the vast fortune accumulated by the child king of the Seas of America.

The Cornelius Vanderbilt fortune was estimated to value seven years ago, when the will was first, at $200,000,000 to $250,000,000. Experts, who have seen track of the distribution in relation to the will, are of the opinion that the holdings the estate is worth at least 100 per cent more than when the will was first made.

Miss Gladys Vanderbilt will probably be in her own right the richest girl in America, and her inheritance will be divided among five heirs, including her father's estate, which is estimated to be worth $120,000,000. A large share of the estate will be given to the five direct heirs, and the balance to the five indirect heirs, including the five children of the late Mrs. Minerva Moore Vanderbilt.

The Vanderbilt estate, fully owned and controlled by the late Mrs. Minerva Moore Vanderbilt, is estimated to be worth $120,000,000. The balance of the estate is estimated to be worth $120,000,000.

Anty Drudge on Marriage.

Miss Doty Drudge—"I certainly do love James—but he's far too poor for us to get married. I'm not strong enough to do the family washing myself, and we cannot afford a girl."

Anty Drudge—"Get married right away if that's all that stops you. You're plenty strong enough to wash clothes the Fels-Naptha way. Fels-Naptha is easy on the woman; easy on the clothes."

Easy on the woman: easy on the clothes! That, in a nutshell, is the Fels-Naptha way of washing.

Fels-Naptha soap does away with all the hard and disagreeable part of washing clothes. Little rubbing, no steaming suds to bend over, no keeping up fire to boil the clothes, no nauseous odor from cooking soiled garments.

Then, clothes last longer with no boiling to weaken their fiber and no hard rubbing to wear them thin.

Look for the red and green wrapper.

Fidgety Girls!

Says wife would not stay on water wagon! Has fierce run-in with notorious character who has been boarding at his expense! Charges that wife's employe turned hose on him! Repudiates all financial responsibility, and organizes parade of fellow sufferers!

By Winifred Black

J SPENT the afternoon yesterday with a nidgety girl. I went home with a sick headache and preferred to go without my dinner, all on account of the nidgety girl.

"I'd rather sit in the room with screaming parrot or chattering monkey than to be the unfortunate victim of a fidgity girl.

This unfortunate woman is not so nervous or bashful enough to be self-conscious; she's just fidgity because she thinks about herself all the time.

First it was too hot in the room then there was a draught, then the chair was too soft, then the chair shook too hard; next her feet annoyed her, then they were too far from the ground.

Afraid that has been said she didn't like her hairpins pulled, and she was dour when she had tussled her hair. She didn't like her hair pulled down, either. She didn't like the hat she began to wear. She didn't like the necktie she had to wear. She pulled it down, she pulled it out, she pulled it down, she pulled it out, she pulled it down in her belt.

She didn't dusted her face off with her handkerchief.
Then she sneezed, then she coughed, then she sneezed, then she coughed, then she sneezed, until I thought I should have gone out of the room where she sat or go into the bathroom.
Now, if that girl were nervous or if she thought there would be some cause for concern, she would have been nervous, but she was not. She was simply a good centred and ill bred.
The greatest charm a woman can have is a sense of humor. She is a woman who sees is replete of manner, and nobility, and she is a woman who is a woman who it's a good deal more fun to be interested in other people than to be interested in herself.
The fidelity girl is never interested in her own appearance, she is interested in the appearance of the man who is in for, her own appearance and her own clothes, her own appearance and her own
Kind fortune save me from being

Vacation?

By Morton Birge

R AH! Vacation,
Expectation,
Pack your baggage,
Haste away.
Brisk employment
In enjoyment
Of your leisure,
Night and day.

Busy bustle,
 Always hustle,
 Crowd the moments,
 Every one.
 Hopping hither,
 Also thither,
 Likewise yonder,
 Chasing fun.

 Fortnight ended,
 Cash expended,
 And—this is no
 Idle jest.
 Rah! for working,
 Not for shirking,
 But for getting
 Needed rest.

B HEN the Summer sun is shining
And the green things push and grow,
Oft my heart runs over measure,
With its flowing font of pleasure,
As I feel the sea winds blow;
Ah, then life is good, I know.

And I think of sweet birds building,
And of children running free;
And of glowing sun-kissed meadows,
And of tender twilight shadows,
And of boats upon the sea;
Oh, then life seems good to me.

Then, unbidden and unwanted,
Come the darker, dead, sinister
Shop and stifling alley
Where misfortune's children rally;
And the hot, crime-breeding nights,
And the death of God's delight.

And I think of narrow prisons,
Where unhappy songbirds dwell;
And of cruel pens and cages
Where some captured wild thing ranges
Like a madman in his cell.

In the Zoo, the wild beast's lair

And I long to lift the burden
Of man's selfishness and
And to open wide earth's
Of God's storehouse full of
For my dumb and human
And to ask the whole world

THANKS, McETRICK

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Will you, through the BOSTON AMERICAN, kindly thank Michael J. McEtrick for gaining an increase of wages for the working women in the macraos' department of the State House during his term in the Legislature? He has shown a great deal of interest and goodness to us. He fought hard for our interest but we have not got any increase in pay. It will soon go into effect. More men of his kind are needed in the Legislature for many a year to come. I wish to thank him. Respectfully yours,
